DEATH OF GEORGE B. SMITH.
One of the most prominent citizens of this State, and a man honored for his culture and respected for his many virtues, has just passed away—Hon. George B. Smith. He died suddenly, at his home in Madison this morning, the particulars of which will be found in our special telegram from Madison. Mr. Smith came to this State in 1841. He was a member of the first Constitutional Convention of 1846, representing the county of Dane. From January 2, 1854, to January 7, 1856, he was Attorney-General of the State. In 1859 he served in the Assembly, and again in 1864, and 1869. He was a prominent member of the bar, a fine speaker and an able lawyer; and in politics ranked as one of the first men in the Democratic party. His death occurring at an unexpected moment and at the prime of manhood, will be deeply mourned throughout the State.

And still Mr. Rankin has not decided what he will do about it. Let him take his ease for the next six weeks, and the Republicans will settle the question for him.

The long silence maintained by the Democratic Central Committee is occasioned by their close study in organizing a strategic movement by which they can capture a candidate.

It seems so far that the Republicans of Wisconsin will have nothing to defeat but a tottering Greenback ticket which in reality is trying to defeat itself. The Democrats will not even show themselves.

One of the humorous features of the New York campaign will be the attempt of Kelly and Tilden to wipe each other out. They may as well stop the political gouging, as the Republicans will wipe them both out completely.

Thomas M. Nichol has three times challenged "Brick" Pomery to discuss the financial question with him, and yet Brick fails to respond. He is a professional brag, and a second edition of the Okolona man, but when it comes to holding a joint discussion with a man like Nichol, Brick is a moral coward.

Notwithstanding the fact that Georgia is completely controlled by that party which so loudly boasts of its reform and its principles of local self-government, the State is being robbed every year, and heavy defalcations of the public accounts continue to be discovered. But Georgia is hardly any worse off than the other Southern States.

It is very evident that Tilden's barrel has not as yet reached Peck's. Sun. Peck claims that the old Cipher is being put forward for the Democratic nomination by the Republicans. He says it is a deep laid plot, and that "they know that Tilden would be so much more of a fraud than Hayes, that Hayes would seem to have wings." George seems to have a conscientious regard for truth, and withal is not afraid to express his opinion.

Is has been within the last year only that Mr. Ingersoll has discovered that this country is despotic and the people fools and ignoramus. Bob has taken a sudden turn lately. While denouncing what he calls intolerance, he is the most intolerant. While he calls those bigots who don't agree with him, he is led by bigotry. In other words, he is like "the lunatic who felt that he was confined in an asylum because all the people outside were crazy."

In the last number of Peck's Sun, we find the following:
The trial of the murderers of Judge Chisholm is now in progress in the Kalb county, Mississippi. If one solitary participant in that infamous crime escapes the gallows, northern Democrats should consider it an invitation to vote the Republican ticket.

Mr. Peck is a Democrat and helped to nominate the late Democratic ticket at Madison. But he is the only Democrat in Wisconsin who, as an editor of a paper, dare openly denounce the De Kalb county massacre. He is manly enough to do this, and we presume that inasmuch as Gully, who assassinated Miss Chisholm, has been acquitted, that Mr. Peck will follow the dictates of his own conscience, and support and vote the Republican ticket. It might as well be stated here that of the 22 murderers, not one of them will be found guilty. They confess the killing and defy the law.

Well, Butler has finally got over in the Democratic party, and more than that, at the first leap he grasped the nomination for Governor. This is another weight added to the Democratic party of that State, and one which insure the success of the Republican ticket. John D. Long, the Republican candidate, is one of the most popular men in Massachusetts. He is now Lieutenant-Governor, and was elected last year by 12,000 more votes than Governor Talbot received. Butler's great ambition is to be Governor, of the old Bay State, and failing to get the nomination at a Republican Convention, he became a Greenback-Committee, and having been defeated at the polls last year for that office, he now embraces both the Demoracy and the Greenbackers, and secures a nomination. This, however, will only make his defeat this fall more certain than ever.

In estimating the loss to the State by the burning of the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Delavan, certain papers put it at $250,000—the Chicago Tribune, for instance. The Chicago Journal estimates the loss at $100,000 to $175,000. The exact amount of appropriations for building purposes from 1852 to 1875, when the lost one was made, was $110,777.35. Much of the building was done when labor and material was high, so that the actual loss to the State cannot exceed $100,000, and in reality will hardly reach that amount. The Milwaukee Sentinel does not regard the burning of the Institute in any sense a calamity or even a serious loss, but merely a temporary inconvenience, as the building was not well adapted to its purposes. The fact that the affairs of the Institute have been in a turmoil for years and that local jealousies and personal quarrels have brought contempt upon it, have led some to favor the removal of the Institute from Delavan. It is safe to say, however, that the State will hardly be convinced that it is policy to remove it to some other point. Anywhere would be better than Delavan, but inasmuch as the State owns the ground, and the site itself is unobjectionable, the new building will in all probability be erected on the old grounds.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Rolle's Shakespeare—Holidays in Eastern France—The Half-Hour Series—The October Atlantic.

OTHELLO. Edited with Notes by WILLIAM J. Rolfe, New York. Harper & Bros., Chicago. James, McClurg & Co. Cloth 75 cents, paper 50 cents. For sale by the Janesville dealers.

To the Harpers the publishers, and to Professor Rolfe, the editor, the country is indebted for this attractive edition of Shakespeare's plays. Each play is in a handy volume by itself, bound handsomely in cloth or furnished in paper, at the price given above. With each volume is an introduction containing the history of the play, the source of the plot, and critical comments on the play. Then is added 40 or 50 pages of notes which are as interesting as they are valuable. Everything necessary for a critical study of the language, as well as for understanding the thought of the play, is given in this popular edition of Shakespeare. It is by all odds the best attempt yet made in this country to bring out the plays of Shakespeare in a form which is cheap and durable, and at the same time give all the material necessary for a thorough and practical study of the subject. As mere specimens of the printer's and the binder's art, these little volumes are unexcelled. Thirteen of the plays have been issued in this manner, and other volumes are in preparation.

HOLIDAYS IN EASTERN FRANCE. By M. BETHAM EDWARDS. Harper's Half-Hour Series. From James & McClurg, Chicago. For sale by the Janesville dealers. Price 50c.

A charming sketch of wanderings hither and yon, away from the beaten track of ordinary tourists, and giving the results of intelligent observation of the home life of the peasants and working people of Eastern France. A little volume like this from a man who goes among and talks with the people and enters their dwellings is worth a dozen of the so-called histories. This is indeed a history and has much of the charm and grace of a story told by a keenly observant poet.

WASSAIL. By COL. CHARLES HANLEY. Harper & Brothers, New York. From James & McClurg, Chicago. For sale by the Janesville dealers. Price 50c.

This is one of the "half hour series" and is in some respects a very creditable piece of work. There are incongruities of plot and incident some of which are grotesque. But these are, perhaps, more than compensated for by the excellent and fairly dramatic picture of the Dibble clan, the Royal Family of Wassails. Read it.
MODERN WHIST. By FISHER AINS. Harper's Half-Hour Series. From James & McClurg, Chicago. For sale by the Janesville dealers. Price 50c.
A happy condensation of Polo. The leading principles and rules of modern whist are clearly set forth, and as the whole forms a very small volume of about seventy-five pages, there can be no good reason why all who profess to love this noble game, but cannot play scientifically, shall not become familiar with the usages of the game as now played by all good players throughout the world. Buy the book and let us have a revival of whist during the coming winter.

THE OCTOBER ATLANTIC.

The Atlantic Monthly for October is an excellent number, though it has few articles by eminent contributors. It proves the inaccuracy of the criticisms sometimes made on this magazine, that no one who is so unfortunate as not to be a Boston man, or otherwise distinguished, can be admitted to its exclusive pages. One of the most interesting articles in this number is by the author of "Certain Dangerous Tendencies," on "Sincere Demagogues," and is exceedingly well worth reading. Lovers of music will find a very attractive article by W. F. Apthorp on "Giacomo Meyerbeer." A solid article for business men pronounces "Foreign Trade no Cure for Hard Times." Sidney Hyde gives an interesting description of "Life at a Little Court." Principal Shairp, of Edinburgh contributes an engaging essay on "Baron and Scotch Song Before Him." Willard Brown describes the aim and extent of the movement for "Socialism in Germany." Richard Grant White adds another chapter to his capital English sketches, entitled "A Day at Windsor." Art lovers will read with much interest a paper on "The Venus of Milo," describing the discovery of this wonderful work of art, and explaining the reason of the peculiar esteem in which it is held. "Irene the Missionary," approaches completion. "The House of McKivker," by M. L. Thompson is one of the Atlantic's excellent short stories. Poems by

T. B. Aldrich, William Winter, T. S. Collier, Katharine Lee Bates and Celeste M. A. Winslow; a fine variety of readable paragraphs in the Contributors' Club; and Notices of New Books, complete the list of good things the October Atlantic offers.

Sudden Death of Hon. George B. Smith, of Madison.

Special to the Gazette.
MADISON, Sept. 18.—Hon. George B. Smith died at his residence in this city, this morning, at five o'clock, very suddenly, it is supposed of heart disease. Mr. Smith had been ailing for three or four weeks, being first taken with stomach troubles, at Beaver Dam some three weeks ago. He has suffered terribly, at times, since then, but was so much better yesterday that he rode out. The doctors have watched his case very carefully, fearing heart disease. Mr. Smith was born at Palmer's Corners, N. Y., May 22nd, 1823. He moved to this State in 1841, settling at Kenosha, and came to this city in 1845. Mr. Smith was one of the best lawyers in the commonwealth, a good citizen, prominent in all charitable undertakings and in his death the State has lost one of its most valuable citizens.

POLITICAL.

The Triumph of the Stalwart Republicans of Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The defeat of Henry L. Pierce, for the nomination as Governor of Massachusetts is a triumph of stalwart Republicanism. Pierce is what is known as a non-partisan Republican, and during several terms of service in Congress was habitually voting with the Democrats on partisan questions, to show that he was independent and unfettered by caucus dictation. He voted with the Democrats, against receiving the electoral returns from Louisiana during the count in 1876, and had a few more Republicans acted as he did, Tilden would be President now. General Butler described the Massachusetts Congressional delegation as consisting of two Democrats, eight Republicans, and Henry L. Pierce. He has been a strong administration man, however, and Long, his successful competitor for the nomination, has been quite as strong anti-administration.

A GUN SPIKED.

The Paying Out of Gold and Silver for Greenbacks—Ohio Democratic Speeches Spilled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The determination of the Treasury Department to pay gold and silver for greenbacks at all the Sub-Treasuries, which will go into effect immediately, has completely taken the stuffing out of several Democratic speeches prepared for delivery in Ohio. The Democrats have claimed that there was no redemption except in New York City, and that holders of greenbacks must journey there to experience redemption. Hereafter this gun will be spiked. Secretary Sherman says he has no fear that there will be an active demand for gold and silver in exchange for greenbacks, no matter how many places are designated for exchange, as the experience in New York will likely be the experience everywhere. In that city nearly twice as much gold has been paid in as has been called for since redemption, and the cash balance is now larger than ever.

DEMORALIZED.

General Demoralization Among the Democrats—The Feeling at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—At no time since the October elections of 1872 has there been such profound Democratic discouragement at the National Capitol as now. Some of the more sanguine of the party attempt to take courage from the old adage that the darkest hour is just before the day. They say that if this be true, there is every reason for hopefulness.

Their chances of success next year are regarded as forty per cent. less than a month ago. In speaking of this, a prominent Democrat here says that had they won California and Maine, that would have started a "boom" which would have swept the country, or enough of it to put them in power next year. But he says they have received three stunning blows to begin with—first, the California election; second, the Maine election, and third, the split in the New York Democratic which is equal to defeat to begin with. All this taken together makes a bad outlook for the Democracy at the very time when they wish most to have a show of strength. It is regarded here, however, that the Democrats have one thing to be thankful for at least, and that is that the general Congressional elections do not occur this fall, else they would certainly lose Congress, as is indicated in California and Maine.

DISAPPEARED.

James Redpath, Prominently Connected with Lecture Bureaus, Missing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Tribune says that James Redpath, well known throughout the country in connection with lecture and amusement bureaus, has been missing for two weeks. His friends are utterly in the dark as to his fate, and fear that he has become insane, as he was suffering from violent pains in the head, and from sleeplessness when last seen. During the summer Mr. Redpath organized a new system of entertainments, to be known as "Redpath's Elysian Nights." For the purpose of this enterprise he had entered into contract with the Criterion Comedy Company, the Rice-Surprise Parry, Salsbury's Troubadours, the Berger Family, and Sol Smith Russell Company, Haverly Juvenile Pinafore Company, Hobson and Crane and Redpath's own combination. All the managers of these companies are naturally anxious to hear from Mr. Redpath, and some of them have already cancelled their contracts with him in consequence of his absence.

DEAF AND DUMB.

Action of the Trustees of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

DELAVER, Sept. 17.—The Board of Trustees of the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb issued the following to-day:

INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB, DELAVER, Sept. 17.—The Board of Trustees of the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, announce to the parents of the pupils as to the public, that from the burning building yesterday all the inmates came out unharmed, with most of their clothing and effects secured. The greater part of the furniture was brought out in good condition and the shop, barn, gymnasium and other outbuildings are unimpaired and available for the use of the school. By the kindness and hospitality of the people of DelaVer, the pupils are temporarily cared for, and arrangements will be made at once for continuing the school work with little or no interruption. The trustees are on the ground and before their separation will arrange for the comfortable accommodation of the Institution until new, permanent buildings are provided by the State. A. L. CHAPIN, President of Board.
At the meeting this morning it was decided to erect a temporary building and improve those quarters, which will secure comfortable quarters for the continuation of the school until other action can be taken. The plans have already been decided upon, and the contracts will be let at once. The cost is estimated at from $3,000 to $5,000. The building will be ready for occupancy inside of six weeks. The school will in the meantime occupy buildings tendered by citizens. During the pupils are cared for in the homes of citizens.

VIROQUA.

Celebration of the Completion of the Viroqua Branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway.

VIROQUA, Sept. 17.—The celebration of the completion and opening of the Viroqua branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway came off with brilliant success to-day at Viroqua, where over 3,000 citizens of Vernon, Monroe, La Crosse, Juneau, and other counties were assembled. The special trains from La Crosse, Sparta, Portage, and other points came into Viroqua crowded with guests among whom were State officers, Congressmen, military companies, bands of music, and citizens from far and near, who were received at the railroad depot by a grand cavalcade, firing of cannon, and many demonstrations of joy. Many persons who saw Vernon County for the first time were astonished at its exceeding beauty, fertility and cultivation. It is the very garden of western Wisconsin, and its inhabitants are delighted in being annexed to the United States of America and the rest of mankind.
Ex-Congressman General J. M. Rusk, surrounded by a joyous multitude of devoted and sincere friends, performed the honors of the present and the day in a princely style. The General was in his happiest mood, and his genial presence inspired the crowd with enthusiasm. An address of welcome having been given by Colonel C. M. Butt, the President introduced Lieutenant Governor Bingham, of Chippewa Falls, who made a very sensible and satisfactory speech, after which Congressman Charles G. Williams of Janesville, delivered one of his most eloquent and felicitous orations, which was frequently interrupted by applause.
He was followed by the Hon. E. W. Hayes, of Madison, whose off hand, witty, and pertinent speech delighted the audience. After appropriate speeches from Colonel Theodore Rudolph, of LaCrosse, who related many interesting reminiscences of early times, and the Hon. Mr. Morrow, of Sparta, and Judge Terhune, of Viroqua, a sumptuous dinner was served to all.

JOKES ON SCHURZ.

When Carl Schurz indulges in fifty or sixty jokes of a hoarse and pretzel or two he falls back on his mother tongue, which he speaks with great fluency. An Enquirer reporter met him under these favorable conditions yesterday and said:
"Secretary, I understand you do not favor General Grant for the Presidency?"
"I do not," replied the Secretary, "but I would not speak with reborders, other I told you confidentially dot General Grant shall not be elected."
"Upon what do you base your opinion?"
"General Grant treat me mit contempt, und die taken mine bruder-in-law's commission as Revenue Collector by Chicago law."
"Do you regard John Sherman as a great man?"
"Mine frent," replied the Secretary, as he pushed the hair back from his massive brow, "mine frent, although I said it, who shouldn't yet dere's only one man in dis country who is hees superior in the indellectual gabacity. You vill excuse me from spoken ains farder on dat question."

THE PLATFORM.

A Sound Document Put Forward by the Republican Convention.

The Course of the Democratic Party Shown Up and Denounced.

President Hayes Sustained and Thanked for His Persistent Efforts.

The Republicans of Wisconsin, by their representatives assembled in state convention, declare their adherence to the following propositions:

FIRST.
The Republic of the United States is a nation, a confederacy of sovereign states, and its government is clothed with a permanent authority for the regulation of all subjects of national concern.

SECOND.
The elections of members of Congress are national elections, and as such the whole country is interested in having them fairly and peacefully conducted, so that every voter may be afforded an opportunity to exercise his right of suffrage freely and without fear of personal violence, to vote once and only once at a given election, and to have his vote honestly counted and returned. It is the duty of the national government to enforce this right. The Republican party is opposed to any military interference with elections, except when it is necessary to maintain the public peace and protect the constitutional rights of citizens. In no instance under a Republican administration have United States troops interfered with the elections of members of Congress. The Democratic party, by the votes of its representatives in Congress against the proposition to prohibit the presence in the vicinity of the polls of United States troops, but of all men armed with deadly weapons, has clearly shown the bad faith and hypocrisy of its affected horror of bayonets at the polls. It would permit an armed mob of its own partisans to surround the ballot-box, but would prohibit the employment of United States soldiers to protect peaceful citizens from intimidation and violence at the hands of the mob.

THIRD.
The refusal of a mere majority in Congress to make appropriations of money already collected from the people for the ordinary and legitimate expenses of the government, with the purpose of compelling the president by such refusal to approve measures which he regards as wise and wrong, were revolutionary in principle, subversive of the constitution and deserving the condemnation of all good citizens.

FOURTH.
The practice of attaching what is popularly termed "political riders" to appropriation bills is vicious legislation, and should be prohibited.

FIFTH.
The thanks and grateful recognition of the people are due to President Hayes and to the Republican members of Congress for their firm and successful resistance to the attempts made by the Democratic party to declare the national government, on election days, a neutral ground, and for protecting the security of the ballot box and providing for the detection and punishment of fraudulent voting.

SIXTH.
The successful resumption of specie payments has vindicated the wisdom of the Republican policy on that subject, and afforded a signal illustration of the lack of honesty and of statesmanship which led the Democratic party to oppose specie payment, and to declare that it was impossible. It has already borne precious fruits in enabling the government to fund its debt at four per cent. interest, and to pay its interest in full, and in promoting a feeling of confidence and security that is already giving a powerful impulse to all business and industry. The interests of all classes of the people are best promoted by a currency possessing or representing intrinsic value, such as we have at present, and bearing a fixed relation to the world's money of commerce. All attempts to modify the existing law by means of depreciation or fluctuations in the money of the country should meet with a firm and determined resistance.

SEVENTH.
That it is the duty of Congress to enact laws to carry out the provisions of the constitution, with its amendments, and secure to the people of the State the rights guaranteed by it, and that the laws, when enacted, are supreme and must be obeyed and enforced, and the recent attempts of the Democratic Congress to repeal and strike from the statute books such laws, some of which were passed there by its fathers, and have been enforced nearly a century, has no parallel in the history of the country.

EIGHTH.
That our Government and State officers are entitled to the thanks and approval of the people for their wise and faithful administration of the public trusts committed to them.

From a Well-Known Writer.
From Mrs. Mary Francis, well known as "Margaret Blount."
Brighton, Woodstock, Vt., Oct. 6th, 1879.
Seth W. Fowler & Son:
Gentlemen—Two years ago I began to take the PENNYMAN. I was in a languid, half-alive state, through incipient dyspepsia and defective circulation of the blood. Three bottles of the PENNYMAN have changed this to glowing, bounding health. I have a fine appetite, sleep soundly, and can walk five miles easily, without resting, or busy myself out of doors all day long without fatigue.

A lady cousin who resides with me, took the Syrup during her recovery from a serious illness of some weeks. She has been an invalid for years. Five bottles of the Syrup have so built up her system that she now eats quite heartily, sleeps well, and can walk three miles (in fine weather) without fatigue. I consider the medicine so invaluable to persons of sedentary pursuits, or to those who suffer from languor or low spirits, that I relate this personal experience of its effects to you, leaving you to make what use you please of my letters. Yours, very respectfully,
MARY FRANCIS.

Dr. Swayne & Son—Gentle: I have been suffering for ten years with Asthma, Bronchitis and an affection of the stomach, causing me to expectorate a great deal of thick phlegm; have tried various medicines and treatments, but never could get relief until I tried your "Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry." It loosens the phlegm which chokes me, and induces sleep, and can feel myself improving in health and growing stronger as I persevere in its use. This is entirely voluntary from me, and you can make use of it, if you see proper, for the benefit of sufferers as well as yourselves. ROBERT T. KATZ, residence, 241 Park Avenue, Baltimore, April 12, 1879.

No other known remedy possesses the great virtue of Dr. Swayne's Syrup in effectively curing all troubles of the chest passages and lungs. Equally valuable in Bronchial and Asthmatic affections. The first dose gives relief, and it is sure to cure the worst cough, all throat, breast and lung diseases. Price 25 cents and 50c, or six bottles for $5. The large size is the most economical. Prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Sold by all prominent druggists. 1330dew-wid-3
